

Why, hello there! My Name is James Schneider. Music has been well-how do I put this- an indescribably influential part of my life that I've been passionate about since I was the ripe old age of 12. When I discovered the Engineering side of this industry I was amazed by the abilities of the technology in both the creative and technical aspects. Engineering music to make it come to life quickly became something that gave me goosebumps. I knew I had to Pursue it. Fast forward, with 6 years of Audio Engineering under my belt, I'm more than excited to start my career in Audio!
